MAULE'S SPECIAL

WHOLESALE PRICE LIST FOR MARKET GARDENERS

1907

From Wm. Henry Maule
Seedsman, Philadelphia, Pa., U. S. A.

62.73

A Plain Price List for Busy People Raising Truck for Sale.

LIBRARY RECEIVED ★ JUN 14 1920 ★ U. S. Department of Agriculture

Just as I am writing these few lines a telegram comes to my desk: "Reserve for our own planting next season seventy-five pounds of your XX Self-Blanching Celery." This is a big order, but when I tell you in addition to this order, I have an order from another one of my customers for 140 pounds of this same celery, it must show implicit confidence in the superior merits of Maule's Seeds. To the market gardeners receiving this Plain Price List for Busy People this incident should be most convincing. If two men can stake so much on a single item, if they will not have seeds from other seedsmen, no matter what the price (and they have both tried every well known seed house in this country) then certainly Maule's Seeds must have merit in their eyes, and they must be good. When it comes to planting hundreds of acres of a vegetable like celery, you cannot afford to take chances, neither can you afford to take a chance with anything if you are raising truck for a living. You want the best, hence the reason why Maule's Seeds are today planted by the most progressive and conservative market gardeners in this country. My trade has increased so rapidly the last few years that of many of my Specialties I am frequently sold out early in the season, and when once sold out my stocks cannot be replaced. This year, however, I have in my warehouses the finest and best stocks I have ever harvested of everything listed herewith.

Thanking my friends for the largest trade last year I have ever done, and hoping for a continuance of your kind favors in 1907, I remain

Yours very truly,

Wm Henry Maule

Philadelphia,
January 1, 1907.

N. B.—Full descriptions with profuse illustrations of all the varieties mentioned in this wholesale price list will be found in my Annual Seed Book for 1907, which should be in the hands of all my customers by February 1st. If you have not received yours by that time, kindly drop me a postal, and a copy will be sent by return mail.

MAULE'S BLOOD TURNIP BEET. (The best of them all.)

Minnie R. Morrell, Byron, Wyo.—We have used Maule's Seeds for the past 18 years, and are so well satisfied that we purchase no others. They are always fresh, clean, pure seed and can be relied upon. This season we tried Maule's Earliest of All and Success Tomatoes, and are highly pleased with them. Your Panmure All Heart Watermelon takes the lead in this town. Maule's Always Heads Cauliflower and Wakefield Cabbage were a decided success. We got first prize for Maule's Perfection Muskmelon, and second prize for Maule's Improved Hubbard Squash, at Douglass, Wyo., at the State Fair, held in Sept.

C. A. Santmyer, Claremont, Va.—As a grower of vegetables for the past 40 years, and a patron of yours for the last 21 years, I feel it my duty to say that the seeds I have procured from you always grew, and were always true to name. Considering the loss to growers in planting inferior and old seeds, and appreciating the good quality and reliability of the seeds furnished by you in the last 20 years, I cannot but say that a change would be a great risk. As to your specialties I regard all I have tried as superior, especially your Earliest of All, Success and Magnificent Tomatoes, Davis Cucumber, Gradus Peas, Ideal Early Corn and New Mammoth Peanut.

Jas. Bennett, Hamilton, Mo.—I have used your seeds for 16 years, and they have always been satisfactory. I have taken the Blue Ribbon on your Commercial Onion at our Fairs for the past two years; they were raised this year under very adverse circumstances; and I had 7 that filled a gallon measure. I also took blue ribbon on the Southport for the finest Red Onion; it took 9 to fill a gallon measure. Next was the Early Eureka Potato; we had some that weighed a pound; I also entered these at the Fair; there were no such potatoes mentioned in the premium list, but I took three blue ribbons on them, and was given sweepstakes over all potatoes; these potatoes were grown this year without much rain. Last year I got second premium on your Sweet Potato Pumpkin, and this year I got first premium.

W. H. Leckey, Hampton, Iowa.—I have been using your seeds for a great many years, and I must say your seeds in 1906 were even ahead of other years, and your Specialties were away beyond my expectations. That Earliest Tomato of yours was fine, and I had tomatoes as early as July 20th. The late tomato I got of you was the smoothest and largest tomato I ever saw; my neighbors would come from all around to see Leckey's Tomatoes. Your seeds are certainly the peer of all others.

Mrs. G. W. Bryson, Whitewell, Tenn.—Your seeds are the best I ever used; they are always fresh and make a good crop. Your Early Express Cabbage is the finest of all the early varieties; I have grown heads to weigh 12 pounds by the middle of June. I consider the New Success Tomato the best early variety; they grow large, are smooth, finely flavored and a bright red color.

Mrs. M. R. Booth, Adelia, Neb.—I have planted your seeds for more than 25 years, and have never had a single complaint to make.

W. F. Miller, Darlington, Pa.—My First of All Sweet Corn last year was 12 days ahead of any corn on the market. I had 125 bushels of corn on ¾ of an acre. The Early Bovee Potatoes were fine.

W. R. Wilhoite, Greenville, Tenn.—Maule's Seeds are exceptionally good. I cannot get along without them.

W. S. Nye, Belle Plain, Kan.—I have planted and recommended your seeds for the past 18 years, and they have always given satisfaction.

N. A. Richards, Manson, Iowa.—We have used your seeds for 20 years; have also tried others, but never found any equal to Maule's.

Mrs. R. F. Rosen, Raphine, Va.—I have used your seeds for 20 years; and have always found them just as represented.

G. C. Holt, Burlington, W. Va.—Your seeds are just as represented. Your Crisp as Ice Lettuce is noted for its crispness and fine flavor.

Mrs. Chas. Morgan, Norwood, Col.—The vegetables produced from your seeds are unsurpassed in size, flavor and quality, above any we have ever raised. Mr. Morgan is a market gardener and has had seeds from almost everywhere, and now says Maule's Seeds are the best.

J. C. Fessenden, St. Cloud, Minn.—We have planted your seeds for 12 years, and are always sure of a fine garden, good crops and beautiful flowers.

R. H. Slosson, Kenosha, Wis.—Other seeds than Maule's have at times failed me; Maule's never. I consider them the best in the world.

J. M. Dunlap, Vicksburg, Ky.—I have been planting your seeds, more or less for the past 30 years; in competition with seeds from other prominent seed houses, yours have invariably proved the equal and often better than others planted under equal conditions.

Martin E. Hill, Fulton, Mo.—Your seeds are the best I ever planted. I made an exhibit at the Fulton Fair in 1906, and received first premium on display, which contained 58 varieties.

Mrs. J. W. Fogle, Mauston, Wis.—I never had a nice garden until I used your seeds, and now every one says I have the best garden in the neighborhood. I raised 4 bushels of beets from a 5-cent packet of seed, and out of 30 cents worth of onions I sold 10 bushels and kept 4 bushels, besides all we used for pickling and cooking. Your flower seeds are the best ever grown.

Henry Smith, Gulnare, Col.—We have used your seeds for 6 years, and have always found them true to name. Our neighbors ask how it is we have such good garden truck; I tell them we use Maule's Seeds.

John H. Buck, Burke, Va.—No better seed can be found than those furnished by your house. True to name and sure to grow. I have been planting them 20 years and never failed in having a good garden. If some fail to give good results it is more likely the fault of the sower than of Maule's reliable seeds.

Emma Allen, Corydon, Iowa.—We planted some of your Specialties last season, and I must say the Davis Perfect Cucumber is the finest cucumber I have ever seen; it has an ideal shape, is almost seedless, and its eating qualities are better than anything I have ever tasted. Silver Anniversary Lettuce is all you claim for it.

H. L. Rice, Shepherdstown, W. Va.—I have used your seeds for 7 years, and they are unsurpassed by any others we ever planted. I raised Enormous Tomatoes 6 to the yard, and heads of cabbage that weighed 21 pounds; Ruby King Peppers 21 to the stalk.

Mrs. F. Fogelsong, Fremont, Neb.—We have raised your Success Tomato for 2 years and think it by far the finest tomato on the market. It is almost as early as the earliest sorts, continues bearing until killed by frost; and the fruit is large and smooth, of good flavor and color. I can also highly recommend Maule's Stringless Green Pod Bean; the beans are positively without strings, brittle and of good flavor. They are delicious to shell out, or to cook while green.

Mrs. A. J. Halstead, Ft. Scott, Kan.—I purchased my seeds from you in 1905, and never had such good success; but last year I saw what I thought was a better offer, and sent for it, and how I wish I had not. I have decided that cheap seeds are the most costly in the end, and in the future will send my orders to you.

B. D. Hayes, Council Bluffs, Iowa.—Your seeds are exactly what you claim them to be, the purest and best on the market. Your Earliest of All Tomato is the earliest we ever raised, and ours bore until long after we had late ones. The Success is the largest and finest later tomato. Your early sweet corn surpasses any other; we had it in market the first of July. Your second early also has fine big ears, is sweet, and sells better than any other variety.

John Cramer, So. Boston, Va.—I find Maule's Seeds now, as well as 30 years ago, if not quite as cheap as some others, true to name and sure to grow.

Mrs. J. Carpenter, Putney, W. Va.—Your seeds are the best I ever planted, and are true to name in every respect. Your Stringless Green Pod Bush Beans are, without exception, the finest beans on earth; they are heavy yielders, free from rust and blight, and delicious for table use. Your Mammoth Sugar Corn can't be beat; we raised in common soil ears of this corn measuring 18 inches. The Shamrock Cucumber and Queen's Golden Pop Corn were the best we ever raised.

W. H. Walrath, Deepwater, Mo.—I have used your seeds for years and found them all right. Your Prizetaker last year took the blue ribbon, and this year was the best at the Fair. I raised about 150 bushels of onions from a little over ½ pound of seed; the people here said they had never seen such a crop of onions. From ½ bushel of your Klondike Corn we sold about $24.00 worth of seed, and had a lot of corn beside.

Mrs. B. McMillen, Elizabethtown, Ky.—Your Harris Earliest Watermelon is from 2 to 3 weeks earlier to ripen in this climate than any other; it is sweet, of delicious flavor and sells rapidly. The Sugar or McIver is very large, sweet and solid, and sold at 40 and 50 cents each. We also planted the Florida Favorite and White Icing, and sold $27.00 worth of melons from 110 hills; if we had sold all of them they would have brought $45.00 or $50.00.

Mrs. Wm. Dorman, Kimball, Minn.—I have used your seeds for 12 years and know them to be perfect; I have tried others, planting them side by side, and yours would grow while others rotted in the ground. Last summer I raised a Potiron Pumpkin that weighed 88 pounds.

Mr. J. R. Warner, Estill Springs, Tenn.—I have been using Maule's Seeds for 18 years, and have always found them as represented pure, fresh and sure to come up.

Mrs. M. Overholt, Granada, Col.—I am a gardener noted by my neighbors for having plenty of vegetable. God made me a cheerful giver to those who have none. Just why I am blessed above the rest I know not, only I know I plant Maule's Seeds; if I don't I will go without garden product, and no neighbors can give to me, because they planted poor seed. I came here over 4 years ago and thought I would plant some cheap seed, as land payments are high in this new country; but after trying for 2 years with no garden, I sent to my old friend. Mr. Maule, for seed, and now have plenty. Have turnips that weigh 9 pounds, onions that we could not put in a tincup; your peas are a surprise to my neighbors, and my garden is covered with flowers wherever a seed was dropped. I raised Banana Melons this summer that were 30 inches and more in length. I wish you could take a trip and see a garden in this irrigating country from your seed.

Mrs. Dan Hansen, Galesville, Wis.—Your Hou[illegible] Cabbage is certainly a fine cabbage for late crop; a sure header, fine shape and excellent quality. Dry Weather Cauliflower is everything its name implies. We had a severe drought in our locality, but I failed to find one plant that did not produce a fine head. I planted a small piece of ground in your Southport Red Globe Onion, and raised 14 bushels of the finest onions I ever saw. They were like large red apples, and I got 30 cents more per bushel for them. Others were bringing in fairly good onions, but could get only 60 cents, while I got 90, and could easily have got $1.00 if I had asked it. I sold them all to one merchant, and he would have taken 100 bushels if I had had them; he said everybody that saw them wanted some.

L. Fannin, Blaine, Ky.—Your seeds are ahead of any I have ever tried. I had tomatoes from your Earliest of All 3 to 5 weeks ahead of my neighbors. The New Alpha and the Market Gardeners Beets are sweet and tender. Your Surehead, Houser and First Early Cabbage are all true to name. From your early cucumbers I have the first cucumbers in my neighborhood; the Evergreen Cucumber is fine for canning purposes. I have a nice lawn from your grass seed.

C. L. Duncan, Lexington, Mo.—Your seeds are the best I ever planted. This has been a hard season on garden seed, but yours stood the test well. My cabbage is the best in this country, and they had but one rain on them. But the greatest thing I got from your house is the Eureka Potato; this year was a hard one on potatoes, but these stood the drought, and made 200 bushels per acre.

O. B. Thornberry, West Milford, W. Va.—I purchased from you last spring less than $2.00 worth of seeds, and have never in my life received such results from $2.00 invested. I attended three County Fairs and received premiums amounting to $17.50. I had on exhibition Fordhook Cucumber, Chinese Giant Pepper, Enormous Tomato, Golden Self-Blanching Celery, Red Wethersfield Onion and Salem Improved Lima Bean. I sold $41.25 worth of vegetables, and used at least $8.00 worth, making a tatal of $67.00. Your Enormous Tomato surpassed the description given in your catalogue.

Orlof E. Brown, De Soto, Kan.—This year I planted no cucumber but the Davis Perfect, and I want no other. Your Earliest of All Tomato is the true name, and the true article. Now Ideal Corn is the ideal, as it's there with the goods. The same may be said of Maule's Early Cabbage. Gradus Pea is the earliest and largest green wrinkled pea, and the sweetest and finest flavored that has ever come to my table. Mammoth Bush Peanut astonishes the natives both in yield and size. Those who have not tried the New Success Tomato do not know what tomato "success" is. The Magnificent will outyield any other, taking bulk for bulk. Chinese Giant and Ruby King Peppers are all you claim for them. While you've taken your Priztaker Onion and Delicious Radish from your list of Specialties, they should, in my opinion, be returned there, for they are in classes by themselves; and I might say the same of dozens of other things.

Mrs. Hugh A. English, Pulaski, Tenn.—I am a market gardener; have used your seeds for a number of years, and feel that I cannot get along without Maule's Seeds. Have been very successful with your Jersey Wakefield Cabbage and Earliest of All Tomato; it is the finest flavored tomato I think I ever had.

Ada Evans, Bonneterre, Mo.—I can give your seeds no higher praise than to say they have been used in my family for 18 years; I have seed from other houses, but found none equal to Maule's, either in germination or production; they always yield one-third to double more than seed from other houses.

Edward Hume, Evans, Iowa.—Having used your seeds for several years, I have proved the truth of your motto—"Once grown always grown." Early Thoroughbred Potato is still first-class. Improved Rust Proof Golden Wax Bean is as good as ever. Early Prize Head Lettuce is splendid. Maule's Always Heads Cauliflower No. 1. New Icicle Radish can't be beat. Your Prize Wakefield Cabbage was the admiration of everyone and sold like hot cakes. Your Imp. Stratagem Peas are splendid, and none better than Maule's Earliest Cauliflower.

C. E. Stager, Clarksburg, W. Va.—I can safely recommend your seeds; last year my garden [illegible] in advance of others. I think every seed grew. To the many inquiries of where I got my seeds and plants, I replied from Maule's, the most reliable seed firm I know of

H. P. Mann, Boulder, Col.—My experience with your seeds the past season was very satisfactory. The Shamrock Cucumber was the best and most productive of five varieties that I tested. Your Prize Earliest and Always Heads Cauliflowers are the earliest and best I ever planted. I had the first home grown cauliflowers in the market here this season. Bowman's Gold Coin melon was the best out of five varieties; the quality was pronounced by all who tasted them as even better than the famous Rocky Ford [illegible] plant more Gold Coin another year. Self-Blanching Celery was A No. 1; several of my customers said it was the best flavored of any in the market. I had some extra fine dahlias from a packet of your seed.

H. B. Aldridge, Reserve, Kan.—This was my first year planting Maule's Seeds, and nothing failed for me, although we had a very dry season. I planted new Ideal Sweet [illegible] Earliest of All Tomato and new Early Cabbage [illegible] were the best money makers I ever had. The tomatoes had such loads of big fine tomatoes on them, they just [illegible] the ground; they were the wonder of everyone [illegible] them; I don't know how many bushels I sold off a [illegible] patch. And my cabbage, I never had half enough for my trade, they were so sweet, and ha[illegible] I had by the first of August.

Arthur Nichols, Oronoco, Minn.—I am a large gardener and grow acres of vegetables every year. I planted seeds from nine different seedsmen the past year [illegible] yours proved the best in every respect, from seed ge[illegible]ing to the finest display of vegetables. I sold veg[illegible] grown from Maule's Seeds for exhibition at the State Fair this fall, and they took first premium

Mrs. N. Walker, Brace, Tenn.—I cannot praise your seeds enough; they are the best in the world. Your Market Gardeners beet is the finest I ever planted

D. A. Perkins, Georgetown, Ky.—Your seed has always given me perfect satisfaction. Your Chinese Giant Pepper is the [illegible] maker I ever had. Your Enormous Tomato is the finest I have ever raised, and I shall continue to use it until I find something better.

Maurice Hardwick, Edgerton, Wis.—It would do [illegible] field of Houser Cabbage from your seed; there are [illegible] every thousand plants, weighing from 15 to 20 pounds each. I had Tomatoes from your Enormous weighing 2 pounds and [illegible] them averaged 10 and 12 ounces.

Harry L. Hartzler, Bedford, Iowa.—Maule's Earliest of All Tomato is fine; this year I had 27½ pounds from one plant. Your new Honey Muskmelon is of good size and fine flavor. The Always Heads Cauliflower is a sure header, and large perfect heads. I sold some at 15 cents each. Your Improved Ruby King Pepper is the largest pepper I have ever grown; 36 was all I could get in a bushel basket. Just So Radish is as fine as silk; Improved Hubbard Squash is good size and lots of them.

Robt. T. Peck, Quindaro, Kan.—I know by actual experience that your seeds have no superior. My father planted your seeds long before I became a gardener, and I cannot express his praise for Maule's Seed; they have earned him many a dollar, and in the future I shall plant no others.

Mrs. A. J. Amtower, New Creek, W. Va.—I have been planting your seeds for 18 years, and they give me better satisfaction than any I ever tried. Your 1906 Specialties were the finest you have put out yet.

C. C. Rosenberger, Hemingford, Neb.—I have purchased seeds from you for 2 years, and we have raised fully 90 per cent. more, and better vegetables than from any seed we have ever planted.

Thos. C. Sellman, Nevada, Col.—We have used your seeds for more than 20 years, and always found them true to name and of good vitality. Your Prolific Beans, Silver Anniversary Lettuce and Honey Melon are good enough for crowned heads.

I. M. Hood, Forest City, Mo.—We have been buying seeds from you for a number of years, and certainly admire your honesty in dealing with your customers. We raised your Icicle Radish last summer when the ground was very hard and dry; they were very brittle and tender, and when we marketed them the people would ask how we could raise such nice, tender radishes in such a drought. We tell them because we plant Maule's Seeds.

J. M. Jordan, Gordonsville, Va.—I tried your Earliest of All Tomato, with the much talked of Earliana, and consider yours is the best early tomato in existence; no blight and it bore until frost, while Earliana blighted badly.

Ward Tolhurst, No. Amherst, Ohio.—I grew Chinese Giant Peppers from seed purchased of you, of which 18 filled a ½ bushel basket; the 18 weighed 14⅝ pounds.

Emanuel Achenbach, Parkman, Wyoming.—Your new White Evergreen Sweet Corn is the whitest and sweetest I have ever eaten. From a packet of your Yellow Sweet Potato Pumpkin I raised 16 of the very largest pumpkins I have ever raised, and they were very sweet and fine grained. Your Eureka Potato is the earliest I have ever raised; this year the potato crop was almost a complete failure in this country, but I had about half of my patch planted in Eureka, and they made a good crop; had it not been for Eurekas I would have been without potatoes this winter.

Lucy O. Brown, Bevier, Md.—I purchased ¼ lb. of your Prizetaker Onion seed, and although we had a very dry season, they yielded me over $12.00. They are hardy and unexcelled in quality and flavor.

B. M. Orcutt, Doniphan, Neb.—From the seeds I bought of you last spring I had an abundant crop of cucumbers, melons and tomatoes. I put in 3 acres of watermelons, and received $125.00 per acre. I could have bought seeds to plant the ground for $1.50, but sent to Maule and paid $4.90 for his seed, and for the first load of melons I hauled I got $7.90. My neighbor bought cheaper seed and paid $3.60 for enough for 7 acres, with the result that he did not have a load of melons, so he did not even get the money back he paid for his seed. For my tomatoes I got at the rate of 10 cents a hill.

W. W. Tracy, Sr., Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.—In regard to your Nameless Wax Bean, my son, who made a most careful study of the varieties in trial this year, is quite enthusiastic about it, as being hardy, prolific and of fine quality.

M. Pugh, La Valle, Wis.—We have used your seeds for 25 years, and are highly pleased with them. One season we bought some other seed to try them, and the cabbage rotted; while yours in the same patch were perfectly sound.

W. E. Stahl, Maud, Okla.—I have planted your garden and field seeds for 21 years, and they have given me better satisfaction than any I have ever planted. From three vines of your Mammoth Peanuts I had 145 full grown pods.

M. J. Breneman, Dunloop, W. Va.—I have been using your seeds for 20 years, and they have always been what you claimed for them in every instance.

W. S. Miller, Fulton, Mo.—My Halbert Honey Watermelons were the wonder of Richland; everyone that tasted them were loud in their paise. My garden was the best in the neighborhood; I never raised such vegetables before; they were splendid in size and quality.

Miss L. Jones, Brierfield, Va.—I have used your seeds for 20 years, and find them far superior to any others I have ever used, in the following respects: 1st. They are sure to come up. 2nd. They are always as good as recommended. 3rd. They are superior in every way. Your Early Corn in 1906 excelled anything I have ever had in that line, as to quality as well as quantity. Owing to the wet weather we could not plant our garden early, but had nice large corn July 4th. Your Success Tomatoes are fine.

Mrs. J. B. Sullivan, Hickman, Tenn.—I want you to know how much we prize your seeds. My father had a crop of onions from Maule's Seeds; they were the admiration of all who chanced to see them, were the prize winners at all the County Fairs, and sold at 10 cents each; many of them weighing ½ to 1¼ pounds.

Mrs. Mary Farrell, Hastings, Col.—Every seed I purchased from you last year grew. I planted as usual, but had to thin every box and every bed I planted with Maule's Seeds.

Mrs. Peter Waterpool, Fairchild, Wis.—I am very much pleased with your seeds. I raised 14 bushels of Success Tomatoes from 15 plants, and Houser Cabbage that weighed 23 pounds per head; and my garden didn't get the best of care at that.

A. Sparks, White's Creek, W. Va.—I would not give one packet of your seeds for half a dozen of any other kind. I have used Maule's Seeds for 5 years and have never found a single fault with any of them. The Surehead Cabbage and Enormous Tomato cannot be beat.

T. J. Hancock, Sturgis, Ky.—Your Japanese Pumpkin is surely fine; we are holding two of them for Christmas; tomatoes and peppers the best I ever had. Taking it altogether I am more than a satisfied customer, and have been for the past 25 years.

Smith Read, Nashua, Iowa.—Your seeds are the best I have found yet, for they are always sure to grow, and true to name. When we neglect to send for Maule's Seeds, which doesn't happen often, we don't have any garden worth looking at.

Mrs. Eliza Stevens, Latty, Mo.—I have used your seed for several years and always found them most satisfactory; this year they were most excellent, especially the cabbage and tomatoes. Our groceryman said ours were the finest brought to market this season.

L. D. Wilson, Abingdon, Va.—I planted your melon seed the past year and we raised wagon loads of melons on one acre. We had some Kolb Gems that weighed about 40 pounds. Maule's Seeds are the kind to plant if you want good melons.

Geo. W. Ragsdale, Topeka, Kan.—Your seeds are the very best and always grow. I have several times "got left" by trying other seeds; but yours are always O. K, sure and first-class.

Isaac Sluder, Mountain Grove, Mo.—Your seeds beat the best I have ever tried. I purchased 1 lb. of your New National and 1 lb. of your Florida Favorite Melon last year, and sold $200 worth of fine melons.

Mary Strayer, Shickley, Neb.—I find your seeds are always sure to grow. Some people think they are too high priced; but they are cheap in the long run, as they always grow, where others cheaper, do not.

Nelson Van Steenburgh, Floris, Iowa.—I have used your seed for 20 years, and no matter how high priced they were, would use no others. Raised 125 bushels of Red Globe Onions this year from your seed, and they took first prize at the Davis County Fair.

John Foster, Bunceton, Mo.—Your seeds were first recommended to me by a market gardener, who had used them for years with perfect satisfaction. I have used them, and no others, for 8 years, and they are just as recommended.

J. P. Felker, E. Chattanooga, Tenn.—I have tested Maule's Seeds for about 20 years, and find them the best ever planted.

A. J. Wilcox, Garden City, Kan.—I have had fine luck with your seed; I raised 4 tons of onions on two lots; took 50 onions to the County Fair that weighed 62 pounds.

B. F. Cook, Higbee, Mo.—Your garden seeds are the best I have ever used. We can plant our garden 2 weeks after our neighbors, and by using your seed, it comes in as early or earlier than theirs.

Mrs. N. J. Hager, Charleston, W. Va.—Your tomatoes have given me excellent satisfaction, especially the Earliest of All; I gave some plants to a friend who said he had never before had such success with tomatoes. The Enormous are also fine.

Miss G. E. Bode, Shenandoah, Iowa.—Your Specialties were fine. Your Prizetaker Onion is indeed a prizetaker; the judges said it was the finest they had ever seen.

Mrs. M. A. Switzer, Adrian, Mo.—Your seeds are all you claim them to be. My onions took the premium at two Fairs.

C. E. Wade, Clardy, Ky.—Your 1906 Specialties were the best I have ever planted. The Noxall and Stringless Green Pod Beans are world beaters. I couldn't do without Maule's Prize Flat Dutch Cabbage.

Benj. P. Neher, Green Valley, Neb.—The seeds of your Specialties I received last spring were world beaters, and I got 3 premiums on my vegetables. I have planted your seed for 18 years, and know they are unexcelled.

W. G. Hunter, Savannah, Mo.—I cannot praise your seeds too highly. I have planted them for the last 20 years, and they are always fresh and true to name.

THE NEW DAVIS PERFECT CUCUMBER.

The New Davis Perfect Cucumber

Plant the Davis Perfect, and you will raise in the open ground, cucumbers that will sell in any market at same price as the high priced hot house forcing cucumbers.

Mr. Davis needs no introduction; as the originator of the Davis Wax Bean and Grand Rapids Forcing Lettuce, he has a reputation as a market gardener for knowing what is what, second to none. Mr. Davis has for years been forcing cucumbers under glass for the Chicago and Detroit markets, and it has been his ambition to produce a cucumber that would be as handsome in appearance and sell as well grown in the ordinary way in the open ground. He has at last succeeded in perfecting a cucumber that beats anything I have ever seen; Davis Perfect is bound to become the most popular cucumber both for forcing under glass and growing outside, for the following reasons:

First. It has an ideal shape, and the handsomest color of all cucumbers.

Second. It is a type of the most perfect size.

Third. Eating qualities surpass anything I have ever tried.

Fourth. It is almost seedless one-third of its length from the stem end, and the seeds when it is in slicing condition are so small and tender that they are unnoticed.

Fifth. It is enormously productive, in fact, beats anything I have ever tried.

Sixth. It does not change its dark, rich color when grown outdoors; in fact, it resembles a hothouse cucumber so closely that dealers cannot tell the difference, and are willing to pay as much for it as the hothouse production. Mr. Davis has tried every strain of new cucumber that has been introduced in the last few years; while a number of them have been very good, he is frank in saying that his cucumber beats anything he has ever tried, and other growers in Grand Rapids are of the same opinion. The facts boiled down are simply these: I believe this is the greatest cucumber ever introduced, and it is bound to become popular everywhere when it is known. Local market gardeners in Grand Rapids, Mr. Davis' home, who make a specialty of growing cucumbers under glass, have tried in vain to get this seed to sow in the open ground. It will be a big money maker for anyone engaged in growing cucumbers in the open ground, for Mr. Davis could have sold the cucumbers represented in this seed crop for more than double the price of any outdoor grown cucumber on the market. Mr. Davis sold Davis Perfect for $1.00 a bushel, both in the Grand Rapids market and Chicago, at the same time the best of the other outdoor grown cucumbers were bringing 40 to 50 cents. The dealers who handled these cucumbers for Mr. Davis wanted him to ship them in large quantities, as they could sell at $1.00 all he could send them, no matter how large the quantity. It stands to reason a cucumber that can be grown outdoors and resembles a hot house cucumber so closely that the trade will pay the same price they are paying for the hot house product is worth a great deal, and it is. I predict the greatest sale any cucumber novelty has ever had for the new Davis Perfect, and every grower, whether for home consumption or for market, to be abreast of the times, must plant this variety. Further comment seems unnecessary.

Packet, 10 cents; ounce, 20 cents; quarter pound, 50 cents; pound, $2.00.
